Achieve your dreams

CRICOS COURSE CODE: 090800M

CERTIFICATE IV IN AGEING SUPPORT

This nationally recognised qualification will enhance your existing skills as an aged care worker.

Community Services and Health is Australia’s largest industry grouping employing 9% of the workforce (ABS 2012a). An ageing population, a decline in births and an increasing lifespan all contribute to this growth.

This growth rate means there is a need for qualified care workers who have great skills to work with the elderly.

With this certificate you combine both classroom-based theory studies with practical training in a simulation lab where industry specific skills are taught and developed before undertaking a compulsory work placement in an aged care facility.

You need to be able to:

› Carry out daily activities to maintain an individual’s wellbeing through personal care.
› Provide services to individuals with complex needs.
› Promote independence and community.

Is the career path right for you?

You need compassion and a genuine desire to help the elderly, high energy, enthusiasm and an ability to connect with people.

It is recommended that you complete the Certificate III in Individual Support before undertaking the Certificate IV in Ageing Support as the Certificate III is entry level qualification.

An aged care employee - level 4 must hold a Certificate III qualification. Aged Care Award (June 2015)

Work Placement

Most units in this qualification require assessment to be undertaken in the workplace. There are 120 hours of work placement in this course.

4Life will arrange and coordinate your work placement, however many students find work placement themselves near where they live.

Workplace assessment involves evaluation of the student, over a range of practical skills, under actual workplace conditions and over several occasions. Students will be well prepared for their placement as they will have practised these skills under the supervision of their 4Life trainer.

Students currently employed in an appropriate workplace may complete their assessment requirements within their own workplace and do not require finding a host employer.

Workplace assessments consist of three individual parts:

a) Logbook, which requires the learner to document the hours worked including a range of practical tasks observed by their buddy or supervisor.

b) Observation by their trainer carrying out a variety of tasks while working with their clients and or other team members.

c) Related written assessment tasks that vary from reflection to writing case notes and understanding policies, procedures and operations.

Please note work placement is not paid work.
